

Learning Disability Support

Practical, empowering support for individuals with learning disabilities, helping build skills, confidence, and a fuller independent life.

IS LEARNING DISABILITY SUPPORT RIGHT FOR YOU?

- Support is needed to build daily living and independence skills
- Access to community activities and social opportunities would help quality of life
- Advocacy and representation are needed in appointments or decisions
- A family member needs age-appropriate, respectful support rather than generic care

WHAT'S INCLUDED

- Independence and life skills coaching
- Community access support
- Social activity facilitation
- Advocacy and representation
- Person-centred, respectful support